house Saturday afternoon was attended by a large crowd and was a business affair altogether. Many of the biggest tobacco growers of the county were present and were sanguine of the success of the Co-operative Marketing plan. At the conclusion of the meeting many signed the pledge offered by the Barley Tobacco Association and there is no longer any doubt that Bath county tobacco men are entering heartily into this movement. Committees were appointed for every school district in the county to solicit pledges and explain the plans of the association.

RICHARD STULL

The remains of Richard Stull arrived from France Friday night and were re-interred at the Stull graveyard three and one-half miles south of Preston Monday with military honors. Bath Post American Legion, officiated. Young Stull was one of those Bath county boys who made the supreme sacrifice on the battle front in France. He was a son of Trav. Stull, Jr., of one of the pioneer families of the county, and was an industrious, popular young man. He was a member of Company F, 6th Regiment, which rendered services that make their name immortal. A large number of friends and relatives were present at the burial. Stull was killed only the day before the armistice was signed.

Tax cuts, approximating $550,000,000 were agreed upon Wednesday by the majority members of the House Ways and Means Committee. Repeals included, besides the excess profits tax and the higher income surtaxes, all of the freight, passenger and pullman taxes. The committee also voted to increase the exemption to heads of families having dependents from $200 to $400 for each dependent. As summarized in a formal statement, the committee action included many taxes that should have been eliminated long ago.

Mr. Oscar Toy, aged seventeen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Toy, died at the home of his parents on the Paris pike on Monday afternoon after an illness of typhoid fever. REDMON-RATLIFF

Wednesday's Lexington Herald contained the following: "His Paris friends were surprised to learn of the marriage of Squire George K. Redmon, of this city, and Miss Walter Mae Ratliff, of Irvine, which took place at Richmond Saturday afternoon, August 13. They will make their home at the Redmon residence on Cypress street."

Miss Walter Mae Ratliff is a daughter of C. S. Ratliff and wife and was born and reared near this place and was a teacher in the Owsingville city school until recently when her father moved with his family to Irvine. Miss Walter Mae is an attractive, intelligent and popular young lady and many friends here extend congratulations and good wishes.

Among other things the Paris Kentuckian-Citizen says of Mr. Redmon: "He is a well-known and successful business man, having until recently been engaged in farming on a large scale, but the past year disposed of his farming interests. He is a former member of the Bourbon Fiscal Court."

ATTEMPT TO POISON CATTLE

One of the most cowardly and inhuman acts that has been attempted in this county, was made on Tuesday night, when some one placed a large quantity of paris green in the pasture of Judge Henry R. Prewitt, on the Maysville pike, where a large number of fat cattle were grazing. It is supposed this act was committed by some enemy of Judge Prewitt's trying to even their grievance by this most cowardly act. Bloodhounds were brought here from Lexington, but they could not carry the trail further than a point on the Maysville pike, where it is supposed the person or persons boarded a car. Every attempt is being made to capture the guilty party, and if caught punishment to the fullest extent of the law should be inflicted.—Mt. Sterling Advocate.

The annual reunion of the Prewitt family will be held at Olympian Springs August 25th.

Abraham McGord and Miss Iva Knox were married at the county clerk's office Monday by Rev. C. L. Wilson.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all the good people and Dr. Jones for their kindness during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter and sister Anna. MR. & MRS. JONAS REYNOLDS AND FAMILY.

WHY HESITATE?

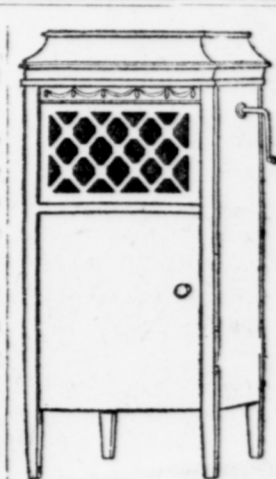

Why hesitate about signing a contract with the Barley Tobacco Co-operative Marketing Association? It is a selling not a holding organization. It will sell your tobacco at a profit to you. It will, by selling your tobacco at a profit, enable you to pay for your land. It will cut down the expense of selling; you can sell your tobacco for less cost in the association than over the loose leaf floors.

You will be paid for your tobacco as soon as it is sold.

If the necessary 71 per cent of the growers sign in time the 1921 crop can be disposed of, without reasonable doubt, in winter order, and you will receive your money almost as quickly as if you had sold over the floors.

Isn't it just plain common sense that an organization having in its possession 75 per cent of the tobacco crop can sell that tobacco at a better price than 40,000 growers, acting as individual sellers? This Tobacco Co-operative Marketing Association is just what its name means, working together and every one shares alike.

WAS THE NEIGHBOR'S CHICKEN

Incident That Was Embarrassing, Although It Also Had an Amusing Side to It.

Some years ago, while living in the suburbs, we kept a few chickens; our neighbors also had chickens. After the garden season was over we let them run, as did our neighbors. In this way I suppose they got more or less mixed.

"One day I decided to have a chicken for dinner, and, not liking to kill it myself, my husband being away—I asked our neighbor if he would kill it for me. He kindly consented, so I brought out the particular fowl I had selected. He killed it, and I thanked him and proceeded to prepare it for dinner.

"When dinner was over I went out to feed the chickens. What was my surprise to find among them the fowl I thought I had just eaten. It was my neighbor's chicken I had asked him to kill for me.

"Of course, I lost no time in making apologies—and also insisted that they take ours instead, and they had a good laugh at my expense.

A Celebrity Arrives.
"Great excitement in the local room."
"What happened?"
"A beautiful woman has just shot a married man who wasn't married to her. The city editor has issued orders to get all her photographs available, from her babyhood to the one taken yesterday, and two men have been sent to arrange for exclusive publication of Frankfort.—While 200 prison-

Reformatory chapel three convicts, J. P. McFarland, of Fayette County, Frank McFarland, of Fayette County, and Monty Guess, of Jefferson County, all white men, attempted to escape from the cell house by going through the ventilator pipe which they found closed with iron bars. They admitted that they had cut through the bars making a dash for liberty.

Paducah.—Somebody who writes sweet-scented missives on pink stationery, addressed to a young woman, dropped the letter into the fire alarm box, mistaking it for a mail box. A dropped quite an excitement at the fire department headquarters. It happened that the fire box was located in the heart of the milling district of the city, and a strong wind was blowing. Firemen rushed to the scene, and found all right. Then they discovered the box open, and a smile went around when the pink letter was removed. They "forwarded" it to its destination via the mail route.

tor general of free employment of the United States Department of Labor, discussed the situation of the employment of the State Board of Agriculture, the possibilities of extending the work of the Kentucky Free Employment Agency.
Mr. Jones pointed out that the Kentucky office, located in the St. Nicholas Hotel property, Fifth and Court streets, is practically unknown to the big employers and to labor, and that Kentucky's harvest hands, coal miners and others are being drawn to other states through the workings of other states' free employment bureaus.

Louisville.—W. W. Mau, of Xenia, O., proprietor of the Mau Carnival Company, was arrested by John Malley, of the United States secret service, after it was charged that he had passed several raised bills on the Roth Motor Company, 803 South Third Third street. The charges grew out of a deal when Mau traded his old car to the Roth company for a new one, paying the firm $200 additional.
In the money paid the automobile company, it is charged, were three raised bills, two of $10 denomination that had been cleverly raised from $1 notes, and a $2 bill that had been raised to $5.

Jackson.—Fred Fletcher, 25, a school teacher, shot and killed instantly Sam Mann, 30, at Frazier Creek, six miles from here. Fletcher came to Jackson and surrendered. He was given an examining trial before County Judge J. Wise Hagin and released on $5,000 bail. Mann, a tenant on a farm owned by Fletcher's father, Lynch Fletcher, is alleged to have had trouble with the latter. He is said to have threatened the elder man, who was unarmed.
Young Fletcher approached at this time, and it is said, fired as Mann was about to shoot his father.

Louisville.—Oscar King, 54, Wath-on's Lane and Seventh street road, while riding his bicycle on Third street, near St. Catherine, was struck by a machine driven by Ernest Vogt, 1382 South Third street, knocked down and dragged fifteen feet. King was taken in an unconscious condition by the Sixth District police to the City Hospital, where it was found that he had suffered a double fracture of the left leg and injuries of the head and body.
Vogt was arrested by Sergeant Moore and charged with malicious assault.

Lexington.—An ordinance submitted to the Board of City Commissioners by local business men, designed to restrict further the activities of itinerant dealers and agents in Lexington, was declared to be non-enforceable and in conflict with the interstate commerce act in an opinion by James A. Wil-more, assistant corporation counsel.

Action was referred to Finance Commissioner J. J. O'Brien, notice was sent to the Board of Commerce, which favored the move for more protection for local merchants.

Angling Made Easy.
A Californian keeps a lake properly stocked with fish where anglers may throw their line and fish to their heart's content by paying a fee for each fish caught. It is much cheaper and just as much fun as taking a long trip into the country.

Neatly Expressed.
Dan was the sort that whined whenever he couldn't have his way. His body knows it but him."

Washington.—Problems of prohibition enforcement in the United States growing so acute that they are growing themselves into the semi-conferences of President Har-dis cabinet. Two questions were called up during the conference, it was learned. to the storage and disposition of liquor in bond country.

Official is said to have to the attention of the Pres-the other members the dif-at Government officials are ing in obtaining storage confiscated liquor, especially usly, it was indicated, it would necessary for the government for means of disposing of of at least liquor instead of per-it to accumulate in large quanlarge cities. Not all members Cabinet, it is said, subscribe to theory that confiscated liquor be poured into gutters and sewer otherwise destroyed. They conthat this liquor has an economic aside from its value as a beverage, and that it is a ruthless waste destroy any product for which lawful uses can be found.

Government officials already are addressing themselves to the solution of this problem. Two methods of disposition have been suggested. One is to extract the alcohol from the liquor and to make it available for industrial uses, the other to market it for purposes that are legal under the prohibition laws. The attention of the President and Cabinet members was directed, it was learned, to a section of the Volstead law that prohibits transportation across in country of liquor in bond, a matter for what purpose. Under a strict interpretation of this section, it is said, the government would not be able to ship liquor for legal uses.

It was indicated that legislation would be sought to remove these restrictions. It was learned that the Administration would not countenance shrewd laws dealing with enforcement, notwithstanding the fact that there would be no relaxation of carrying out the intent of the prohibition act. This question of legitimate use is being tried in various Courts, and the Administration will await the decisions before taking action. In case the Courts hold goods of this character to be subject to seizure, recommendations for changes in the enforcement law may be made by the Administration.

Taft Purchases Home.

Washington.—Chief Justice William Howard Taft has purchased the home of former Congressman Alvin T. Fuller, of Massachusetts, at 2241 Wyoming avenue, Northwest, it was learned from reliable sources. The property, which is considered to be one of the finest residences in the city, has been held for $100,000, it is understood.
The actual consideration was not learned.

Liner Hits Iceberg.

Christian.—The Norwegian steamship Bergensford limped into port here from New York, having been damaged by hitting an iceberg while off Cape Race during a dense fog. The iceberg bumped the steamer below the water line and one wing of the propeller was bent so that the liner was forced to reduce its speed.

Holy War Proclaimed.

Angora, Anatolia.—A holy war has been proclaimed by the King of the Hedjaz as a measure for assisting the Turkish Nationalists in their fight against the Greeks in Asia Minor, it was announced here.

Life Was Threatened.

Canton, O.—That Paul E. Kitzig, 20 years old, star witness for the government in the prosecution of Canton and Cleveland men several months ago on dry-law violation charges, who was murdered here, had received numerous threats against his life, it became known. Mrs. Augusta Kitzig, mother of the murdered man, told authorities that her son had informed her that his life had been threatened by a former associate. "Paul came home on a number of occasions and told me of these threats," Mrs. Kitzig said.

President's Father Married.

Marion, O.—"Good-night, Alice: I guess I'll see you again." With these words Dr. George Tyrone Harding, 70 years old, father of President Harding, left his bride, Miss Alice Sevens, 32 years old, at the door of her home. Mr. Harding returned to his home. It was the climax to his elopement earlier in the day to Monroe, Mich. Dr. Harding and Miss Sevens, who had been his stenographer and office attendant for years, left Marion, ostensibly to attend a medical meeting in Detroit.

POSSIBLY HER LAST CHANCE

At All Events, the Object of His Affec-

Her Fiance.

For several minutes the young man did not speak. His heart was too full. It was enough for him to know that this glorious creature loved him; that she had promised to share his fate.

With a new and delightful sense of ownership he feasted his eyes once more upon her beauty, and as he realized that henceforth it would be his privilege to provide for her welfare and happiness, he could have almost wept with joy.

His good fortune seemed incredible.
Finally he whispered tenderly:
"How did it ever happen, darling, that such a bright, shining angel as yourself fell in love with a dull, stupid fellow like me?"

"Goodness knows," she murmured absently; "I must have a screw loose somewhere."

His "Diplomacy."

"I say, dad," piped the small boy,
"can I ask you a question?"
"Yes; go ahead," replied the indulgent dad.
"What's diplomacy, dad? I saw it in a book the other day."
"Diplomacy, my boy," said dad, with a patronizing smile, "means doing or saying precisely the right thing at the right moment."
"Ah! Then I was a diplomatist last night, dad."

Really, my boy. How d'you make that out?"

cator oil, I rolled Bobbie into my "No," said the millionaire, with a grim smile, "what you see is merely to carry women safely through the Change of Life. She says:

"It is with pleasure that I write to you thanking you for what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was passing through the Change of Life and had a displacement and weakness so that I could not stand on my feet and other annoying symptoms. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me, so I got more.
It cured me and I am now doing my household work as usual. I am certainly a woman's friend and you may use this testimonial as you choose."—Mrs. MARY LISTER, 608 Frank Street, Adrian, Mich.

It is said that middle age is the most trying period in a woman's life, and owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand passes through this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying symptoms.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It acts in such a manner as to build up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.
Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative and often prevents serious troubles.
